

Preserving Our Irish Heritage and Assuring its Future

A 10th Anniversary Benefit for the Rhode Island Irish Famine Memorial and its Endowment Fund.

Presentation / Entertainment:

The afternoon will feature Michael McCormack and his two person band. The show will consist an historical presentation and musical performance of sixteen of Ireland's rebel songs.

Mike McCormack is the A.O.H. National Board Historian / Archivist and an accomplished traditional Irish musician.

He will introduce each of these songs with insightful background information.

You will learn about Ireland's epic struggle for independence as folksinger John Corr performs the associated ballads on guitar, banjo, whistle, flute and spoons.

This show by Mike and John will be very a substantive one. Seating will be in the Citizens Bank Rotunda which will be set up in a lecture style.

This will be a somewhat formal show. Once seated, people will be asked to stay seated throughout the 1:30-3:30 performance unless McCormack and company "take a break" halfway through.

For further information, check this website:

www.shamrockandclover.com